MAY 2026

Prioritizing Family Wellness in Our Community

May is Family Wellness Month, an observance that aims to educate and support families in their pursuit of wellness, not just the treatment of illness. Daily routines and the environments we live in play an important role in shaping our health, which is why a family-centered approach can help everyone stay consistent, supported and motivated.

This month is a great opportunity to check in on your family's health and make small, meaningful changes.

A Season of Black Graduates and New Beginnings

To Black graduates stepping into new beginnings this season, know that you don't have to have everything figured out right away. It's okay to move forward with questions and uncertainty, growth takes time. Every late night, every challenge, and every moment you pushed through doubt helped shape who you are today.

Elevating the Conversation: A Look at What's Ahead for Thrivin' in Color

As Thrivin' in Color continues to grow as a platform rooted in storytelling, empowerment, and cultural impact, it is evolving into more than just a podcast—it's a space where conversations don't just reflect the culture, they help shape it. This season leans into intentional themes designed to create room for both reflection and forward movement.

Power Profiler: Wunmi Mosaku | Actress

Oluwunmi Olapeju Mosaku (born July 31, 1986), known professionally as Wunmi Mosaku, is a Nigerian-British actress from Zaria, Nigeria. She emigrated to Manchester, England, at the age of one. She attended Trinity Church of England High School and Xaverian Sixth Form College, later studying acting at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art (RADA), where she graduated in 2007 with a BA (Hons) in Acting.

Mosaku recently portrayed Annie in the 2025 American period horror-drama film, Sinners. Her performance was lauded by critics for presenting a layered, captivating character that defies stereotypes and contributes to positive representation of Black women in cinema.

For her performance as Annie in the 2025 horror film Sinners, Mosaku won the Gotham Independent Film Award for Outstanding Supporting Performance and BAFTA Award for Best Actress in a Supporting Role. Additionally, she was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actress in a Supporting Role, a Critics' Choice Movie Award for Best Supporting Actress, and an Actor Award for Outstanding Performance by a Female Actor in a Supporting Role.
